Spain

Migrants enter Spain in different ways:

- by air
- by boat
- by land

Spain: Policy and Legal Framework

- EU level
- Ley Orgánica 4/2000, de 11 de enero, sobre derechos y libertades de los extranjeros en España y su integración social (LO 4/2000)
 - Modified several times over the last decade.
 - Foreigners who are denied entry at the borders must return to their place of origin.
 - If their return is delayed longer than 72h, the examining judge must determine the detention centre.

Spain: Centres

- Migrants who are to be removed from Spain are sent to Migrant Detention Centres (CIEs) while their expulsion is processed.
- Migrants granted the asylum seeker or refugee status who can prove that they have no resources are sent to Refugee Assistance Centres (CARs).
- Migrants about whom a judicial decision has not been made are sent to reception centres in the interim (CETIs – Centres for Temporary Stay of Migrants, and centres managed by CSOs).

Spain: migrants' entitlement to health-care services

Royal Decree (RDL) 16/2012 limited access to the Public Healthcare System.

Exceptions:

- Foreign women during pregnancy, childbirth, and postpartum, subject to the same requirements as Spanish women;
- Foreign minors under 18 are treated similarly with all Spanish citizens;
- Victims of human trafficking.
- Emergency cases

Andalusia

- 8.4 million of inhabitants (Spain: 47)
- 7.9% Foreigners residents

Emergency and planned hospital admissions

Why do we keep healthcare to undocumented immigrants?

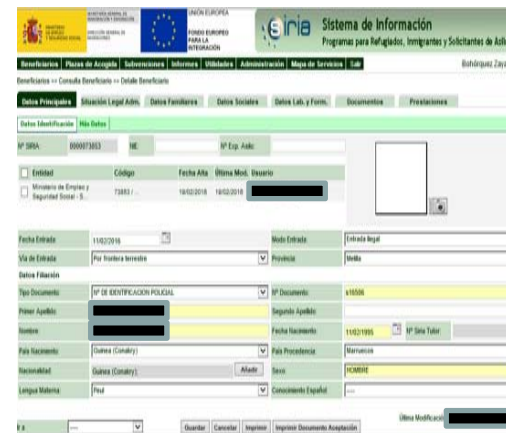

- Human Rights and Social Justice
- Legal field
 - Andalusian Health Law (1998)
 - Organic Law (2007)
- Public Health
 - Health Risks
- Health management
 - Increase of costs
 - Increase of emergencies
 - Increase of complexity
